

About the Author

Taunya D. Said is a Washington, DC native who began her journey with Smart Alec Alex in 2009 on a slow night as a part-time telemarketer. She turned her childhood stories and the likeness of her now 26-year-old daughter, India, into a humorous series about Alex P. Knowitall. Taunya is a kid at heart. Her personality overwhelms you with laughter as she constantly draws you in with her many stories.

Taunya originated the series to highlight African American children due to the lack of representation in bookstores. She has a vision to create a safe and fun space for children to see characters that are relatable.

She has traveled all over the east coast to share her series with people of all ages at various book fairs. She has also made special appearances throughout the DC, Maryland, and Virginia areas to read Smart Alec Alex to students.

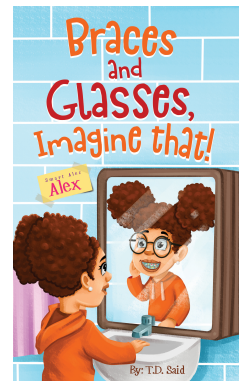

Through social media, Smart Alec Alex has become a household favorite for all to enjoy and gain a lesson within a laugh.

About the Series

The Smart Alec Alex series follows an 11-year-old girl named Alexandra P. Knowitall and her four best friends throughout the challenging years of middle school. The group will take on several adventures filled with lessons and laughs they'll remember forever.

Current titles include:

- Changing Schools and Classroom Rules
- Braces and Glasses, Imagine That!
- The Vacation from ... Hello Operator, Help!
- Cheerleading into Some Mess!

Contact

Taunya D. Said
240.593.4673

TDTSProductions@yahoo.com

High resolution images and more information on the entire series can be found on

www.SmartAlecAlex.com

Featured On

